

KEEP 'EM FLYING WARBIRDS

JUNE 2005

VOL. 28, NO. 4

contents

TOM SMITH

Sean Sweeney's Ryan PT-22 N55081 in the grass at Sun 'n Fun. Take out the snow fence and the ATV, and this could be any World War II-era training field.

in this issue

12 North American AT-6, SNJ and Harvard Emergency AD 2005-12-51

by Rick Siegfried

14 2005 Photo Contest Winners

23 2005 Sun 'n Fun Review

Gallery of photos

40 Mustang Makers

Tri-State Aviation's shops are packed with P-51s photos by Dick Phillips

columns

2 Director's Update

3 Mail Call

4 Warbird News

10 The Way It Was

by Robert F. Dorr

45 Supply Depot

46 Mystery Warbird

by Mark Laatsch

48 Calendar of Events

Front Cover

Steve Hinton at the controls of P-38 Glacier Girl formates for the lens of Paul Bowen in the skies over Florida. Full photographic coverage of Sun 'n Fun begins on page 23.

Back Cover

Shortly before the official Surrender of Japan, the Cavanaugh Flight Museum's FM-2 Wildcat was accepted by the U.S. Navy. Restored in the late 1970s, the Wildcat took the Oshkosh Grand Champion prize in 1979. It still looks like a winner here as it taxis out for home in Addison, Texas. Photo by Tom Smith.